GANGSTER SOUGHT IN LINDY CASE GIVES UP

SIX CENTS A DAY

WET FLORIDA NEWS

By Arthur Brisbane—

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS reports “resources for feeding the thousands of veterans at Washington are about exhausted,” and Police Superintendent Glassford prepared a notice to the bonus seekers that the authorities tomorrow will gladly furnish transportation out of the city for those ready to return home.

In other words, “here is your hat; what is your hurry?” The government’s attitude was different when men were needed to fight the country’s battles.

THESE men that went to Washington to ask for justice are requested to go about their business, because the fearful drain on national resources that feeding them would involve could not be ended. The government has been spending six cents a day to feed them; that would be $300 a day for 5,000 men. It makes you laugh to remember what the government spent to feed Belgian children, Turkish children, Armenian children, and the deserting of Mesopotamia.

WHAT, by the way, are the Red Cross and the Salvation Army doing, except collect money, in these interesting circumstances? These men, now out of work and penniless, are the same that paid first class prices for cigars at benevolent canteens in France, and for everything they got.

IT seems strange to read in an Associated Press dispatch that near Washington “military posts have been restricted, officers and men understand that they are to stand ready for any emergency duty that they may be called to perform.” This, of course, refers to the presence of veterans in Washington.

It was said after the Civil war that it would have been cheaper if the government had bought the slaves and freed them instead of fighting about them.

It certainly would be cheaper, also more decent, to feed the former soldiers demanding justice than to use today’s standing army to suppress them.

Near a powder magazine one should not play with matches.

VETERANS “DIG IN” AT CAPITAL; NAME LEADERS

Bonus Seekers Decline Invitation To Ride From City

LAST OF POLICE FOOD HANDED OUT

Plain Clothes Detail Is Assigned to Communist Headquarters

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 9.—A special detail of plain clothes men watched over Communist headquarters today as the bonus expeditionary force, meanwhile, established an organization they claimed would be “permanent.”

Treasurer Named

This organization, which will handle the affairs of the 8,000 bonus payment seekers now here and additional groups enroute, included a treasurer to receive and disburse funds for good purchase.

Police paid the special attention to the Communists’ activities to preclude any surprise demonstration. Their headquarters has been open to all members of the workers ex-service man’s league, a radical organization.

The veterans received today the last food which will be contributed from funds administered by the police. Their commander, Walter W. Waters, of Portland, Oregon, appointed a commissary committee and moved immediately to obtain food and stocks for the encampments.

Benefit Nets $2,500

Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent of police, will turn over about $2,500 realized at a boxing benefit last night.

Waters repudiated, on behalf of his army, Robert Williams of Cleveland, Ohio, who had sought out Rev. James R. Cox, of Pittsburgh, leader of an unemployed march to Washington several months ago, in an effort to get Cox to persuade the veterans to leave.

Police offered them a chance early in the day to ride on trucks 50 miles toward their homes. None responded.

Couple Are Killed In Auto Accident

Word was received today by friends and relatives in Damascus and Beloit of the death of Mr. and Mrs. George P. of Denver, Colo., who were killed recently in an automobile accident near Long Beach, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Pim resided in Damascus more than 25 years ago. Returning from a visit with relatives in Hawthorne, Calif., their automobile collided with another machine at Long Beach, both sustaining fatal injuries.

Mrs. George Barber of Beloit is a first cousin of the victims, both of whom were known in Beloit and Damascus.

Swinging down historic Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington to the martial music of a steel-banded band, the “Bonus Army Expeditionary Force,” in the capital to demand payment of veterans’ bonus certificates, is shown in its first organized parade since the army started to concentrate in Washington. It is estimated that 6,000 men took part in the march past the Capitol and there was not the slightest disorder.

Congressman, Ohio Retail Expert Praise Spirit of Salem Days, Friday, Saturday

County’s Primary Cost Is $5,699.95

Lend Impetus to Industry; 100 Merchants Ready for Event

Minervan To Speak At Farm Bureau Fete

LISMBON, June 9.—The recent primary election in Columbiana county cost $5,699.95, it was announced today by County Auditor John H. Irwin following a complete check of all account forwarded by the county board of elections.

While this is considered a normal election cost, it is considered probable that the expenditure will be slightly less for the November election, for the reason that only one instead of two large ballots will be used.

Confident that the appeal of price savings and the giving of values that establish new records in the recent history of merchandising will attract the attention of, and compel action by thrifty buyers of Salem and vicinity, merchants today asked only the indulgence of the weatherman as they prepared to welcome patrons on Friday and Saturday, Salem Days.

One hundred merchants participating in one of the greatest co-operative sales events they have ever held, today were ready for the crowds of buyers. Real bargains, based on values of today, will be in evidence in stores throughout the city.

Sales Forces Ready

Stores have been made spick and span for the event. Complete sales forces will be available so that service may be rendered promptly and efficiently. Savings will be apparent in virtually every line of merchandising.

Parking facilities will be extended free of charge, four lots having been designated for the convenience of shoppers. They are the telephone company lot at North Lundy and Second; the Corso lot in the rear of the Corso fruit store; Althouse Brown lot at Pershing and South Lundy and the Pascola lot on East State st., adjoining the Ford Motor company building.

The spirit of Salem Days, in providing an impetus to industry, is lauded in communications from Congressman Frank Murphy and George V. Sheridan, executive director of the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants.

Congressman Murphy writes: “I sincerely hope that the merchants of your enterprising city will have such bargains that the splendid people of Salem and surrounding community will take advantage of the opportunities the merchants are giving on June 10 and 11 to buy their summer needs. By doing so, I feel they will contribute much toward giving an impetus to business, which has been languishing for sometime, and thereby help themselves as well as the fine community of which they are a part.

“This is, indeed, a worthwhile movement and should be encouraged in every way by the citizens.” George V. Sheridan says.

FORMER SALEM WOMAN HURT IN BLAZE TRAGEDY

Mrs. Fred Gehring Flees As Fire Razes Cleveland Apartment

FURNISHINGS ARE LOST IN FLAMES

Probe Theory That Safe-crackers’ Blast Was Cause

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, O., June 9.—The Ellington apartments fire was of incendiary origin, Assistant State Fire Marshal Val Hafner said today.

His flat pronouncement was made after a 23-hour investigation of the blackened ruins from which eleven bodies have already been taken and in which it is believed at least three more lie buried.

Hafner said he had not yet gathered sufficient evidence to warrant any arrests.

Mrs. Fred Gehring of Cleveland, who lived in the Ellington apartments, East Ninth st. and Superior ave., which were destroyed by fire early Tuesday morning, escaped death with slight injuries, relatives here have been advised. She received a sprained ankle and is under the care of a physician. Her husband stated in a letter to relatives.

Mr. Gehring was at the Holland hotel, where he is employed at office work, when the fire broke out. The Gehrings lived in an apartment on the fourth floor. They lost all their furnishings. They are at the Holland hotel temporarily. Mrs. Gehring before her marriage was Miss Mabel Test of Salem.

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, June 9.—Evidence that a charge of nitro-glycerine, set off by amateur safe-crackers, may have caused the disastrous Ellington apartments fire was being investigated today while the death toll mounted.

The eleventh body, that of an unidentified elderly woman, was taken from the debris early today. Firemen were kept digging in the ruins for the bodies of three women still listed as missing.

Vault Tampered With

Safety Director Frank J. Merrick said apparently the vault of the Cleveland Savings and Loan company, located in the street floor of the downtown building, had been tampered with. Two bolts had been removed from a plate covering the gears which open the vault.

Merrick said his theory was that amateur safe-blowers removed the bolts and when they found the vault still would not open, set off a charge of nitro-glycerine. Professionals would not have attempted to remove the plate, Merrick said. The vault contained $6,000 in cash and $120,000 in securities.

Death Ends Specialist’s Able Career

Rites for Dr. Chase Ambler, Noted Physician, Held In Asheville, N. C.

The career of a widely known physician, famed as a specialist in tubercular diseases, honorary president for life of a sanitarium, chief of staff of a hospital, a bank director and leading citizen, came to an end with the death recently of Dr. Chase P. Ambler, 66, of Asheville, N. C.

Dr. Ambler, who died last Sunday following an eight month illness, was born in Salem on November 15, 1865. He was a brother of J. Ambler of this city. Funeral service was held in Asheville Monday.

Dr. Ambler graduated from the school of medicine, Western Reserve college, Cleveland, in 1889 and went to Asheville as assistant physician at Winyah sanitarium. He did post graduate work in nose and throat work at New York Graduate school in 1890 and during 1892 and 1893 made a special study of eye, ear, nose and throat diseases and surgery of the eye at New York Polyclinic Medical school and hospital.

Comes Back To Ohio

Following the completion of these studies he was appointed laryngologist and rhinologist at Winyah sanitarium in Asheville, returning to Ohio in 1893 to locate a private practice in Canton after the sanitarium was destroyed by fire. He returned to Winyah in 1896 as house physician after the sanitarium was rebuilt and later was appointed ophthalmologist on the staff of Asheville Mission hospital.

During the administration of President William McKinley his ability was recognized when he was appointed expert examiner of the Bureau of Pensions, department of the interior.

“PURPLE” CHIEF WILL NOT TALK ON KIDNAPING

Harry Fleisher Surrenders to Detroit Authorities

TWO ATTORNEYS ACOMPANY HIM

Faces Charge of Complicity In Collingwood Massacre, Also

(By Associated Press)

DETROIT, June 9.—Harry Fleisher, alleged leader of the “Purple gang” and sought for months in connection with the Lindbergh baby kidnaping and Detroit’s Collingwood apartment massacre, surrendered to police today. He was accompanied to police headquarters by two attorneys.

Appears Nervous

Fleisher, well dressed, appeared extremely nervous. He held a handkerchief over his face as though expecting to face newspaper photographers, but none was in the room when he arrived.

He was taken to the office of Prosecutor Harry S. Toy. The prosecutor went into conference with Fleisher and his attorneys.

Later Fleisher came from the prosecutor’s office, seemingly less nervous, and posed for photographers. He refused to answer questions.

“Where did you get that tan, in Texas or in Canada?” he was asked.

Fleisher shrugged his shoulders. “Did you have anything to do with the Lindbergh kidnaping?” he was asked.

Again he shrugged his shoulders and said nothing.

Notifies Federal Aids

Prosecutor Toy said he had instructed police to notify federal authorities of Fleisher’s arrest. He said Fleisher had been sought on a charge of violating the federal prohibition laws. He also stated that Fleisher would be arraigned Friday in recorder’s court on warrant outstanding for several months, charging him with complicity in the Collingwood massacre.

The prosecutor said Fleisher would remain in custody of the state until all charges here have been investigated. He said police at Trenton, N. J., have been notified that Fleisher is here and available for questioning by them in connection with the Lindbergh case. “I asked Fleisher about the Lindbergh case, but he won’t talk to me” the prosecutor said.

NEED RELIGION IN LIFE’S WORK

Pastor Stresses Education In Address to Parochial Graduates

The need of religion, a deep and reverent understanding of God and his teachings, in the quest for success in life, was emphasized by Rev. Fr. Maurice J. Casey in his commencement address at graduation exercises for St. Paul’s Parochial school students at St. Paul’s Catholic church Wednesday night.

The service was held to mark the close of grade school careers for 32 boys and girls who were presented diplomas by Rev. Fr. Casey. More than 500 persons attended the event.

Fr. Casey spoke on the subject, “Religion and Education,” commanding the graduates to maintain a deep respect for religion and to combine the teachings of God with scholastic knowledge to be obtained in classrooms.

Fr. Casey opposed the separation of religion and education, saying that “success cannot be obtained without a deep insight and a reverence for God’s word.”

He attacked the manner in which he said the instruction of religion has “been placed secondary to other work in colleges and universities.”

Rev. Fr. Casey advised parents to continue the religious instruction of their children. He based the theme of his address on the Biblical quotation, “And I shall be with you for all days, even unto the end of the world.”

STATE CHECKS ON TAX RETURNS

Columbiana Countians To Be Called To Explain Discrepancies

(By Associated Press)

LISBON, June 9.—Approximately 4,000 people will be summoned to appear at the office of County Auditor John H. Irwin within the next two weeks to explain either why no personal tax return was filed, or why inaccurate returns were filed.

Four representatives of the state tax commission, Columbus, headed by Thomas Kearns, have been assigned to this county to check every personal tax return filed last spring. It has been disclosed by a check of the records that thousands did not file a return, and that others made inaccurate returns.

A penalty of five percent has been automatically added to those inaccurate returns in the event corrections are made on or before the close of business next Saturday, after which a penalty of 50 per cent will be added, and the full amount owing placed against the individual record for collection next September.

Individual letters are to be mailed all those who failed to make returns and those who failed to make a proper listing of intangibles.

Correction of these returns and new listings of others will, it is claimed, create a swell of no mean proportions in the tax duplicate above the present record.

Representatives from the tax commission’s office will remain in the county for an indefinite period, it is said, after which the group will move into Mahoning county.

THE ROAD BACK

The police of the District of Columbia are acting for the states in their handling of the bonus "armies" in Washington. It is not the national will that a policy of tough treatment be followed.

The handling of the marchers this year may well be patterned on that of 1894. No action should be taken to encourage the uncampaigned veterans to think they are being driven out of Washington. They have been saying they will stay until congress votes on the bonus bill, which cannot take place until next Monday.

There are many similarities of the two great unemployed armies that have marched on Washington. The army of 1894, like the present one, was spurred on its way by communities anxious to avoid trouble. Trains were commandeered. Also, there was widespread alarm expressed that there would be dire consequences.

That army, smaller than the present one, it is true, did not break up for several months. It remained in camps around Washington, some in Maryland and some in Virginia, subsisting as best it could on berries and the supplies it could beg or buy. When the berry crop failed and contributions became scarcer the disappointed men drifted homeward. The district commission provided trains for some. Virginia and Maryland broke up their camps by force.

Men who are out of work and low in spirit cannot be expected to see any side of a case but the one in which they believe. There is everything to be gained and nothing to be lost by being endlessly patient with the unfortunate Americans who, in a spirit of desperation, have descended on the capital in an attempt to coerce congress into granting payment of the bonus.

GENTLE SLASHING

An organization calling itself the National Organization to Reduce Public Expenditure was formed a few days ago. Its first action was to ask for a slash of $750,000,000 in the federal budget.

This and other similar demands have helped to sustain the hopes of the American people during the days when they began to realize the true extent of the crushing tax bill recently enacted. Not one of them doubted, or doubts now, that the federal government, if forced to do so, could reduce its expenditures at least $750,000,000 without jeopardizing its efficiency.

The house had a chance to do something about it, and passed a bill saving a little more than $50,000,000. The senate, confronted with the necessity of passing a bill to save at least $238,000,000, has sidestepped its responsibility in a way just as cowardly. It seems impossible at this time that any kind of bill to save more than $150,000,000 can be prepared in conference.

Failure to effect economies commensurate with the taxpayers' sacrifices under the new tax law is outright betrayal of the people's trust in their congressmen. They have said, virtually: The most expensive government in the world must not be touched, lest our jobs be endangered in some way. They are gambling with organized minorities against unorganized majorities. They are playing to win, but they are going to lose.

In North Carolina and Iowa this week it has been demonstrated that there is a sweeping revulsion of popular sentiment against men who have participated in activities of congress this session. More, many more, are doomed to pay the price of going contrary to the will of their constituents. They gambled on the wrong side of the game.

One of the operations of asthmatic which they certainly do teach in schools of Europe is cancellation—Norwalk, O. Reflector-Herald.

by O.O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, June 9.—Few thrilling to the Folies 20 years ago would recognize the crisp new type of musical revue now all the go. Such extravaganzas today offer the threat of a plot, satirizing the foremost topics of the day—the depression, politics and the collapse of investments.

The opening scene in one is at the Automat with the ex-rich spigotting for coffee and slot sandwiches and in another the curtain rises on the White House with a Vice President trying to get away from his hopeless isolation. In each is a straining for acid ridicule.

In the clutch of the stage's newer sophistication, beautiful maids no longer melt into beautiful scenes by the lift of successive scrims and vice versa. In fact there is a studied contempt for ancient formulas. So much so a replica of a former stage pageant is revealed.

It is done without mockery. There is the iridescent spread of costumes against a background of dripping rhinestones. Graceful ladies, peacock in their gaudy plumage. Yet so much has the revue changed since the old Midnight Frolic, the audience is convulsed with laughter.

The change of tempo was first introduced by Charlot's revue from England. American producers interpolated it with local notions, the entire effect being a glorification of the wise-crack. One producer awaiting the sheriff, yanked himself out of oblivion by exploiting two such revues this season.

My sympathies were tweaked yesterday by a young husband, in durandale, and his anguished bride. An adventure in job hunting ended in failure. Broke and bewildered they tried to return home, but were nabbed at the station on a warrant for failing to pay a $42 hotel bill. Nor was my pity lessened in a cafe that evening by the sight of the chief figure in a bank swindle enjoying his freedom and a bright blonde.

Before entering this cafe, attention was attracted to a pair of whispering romancers. She held to his coat lapel in tremulous adoration and presently with a gallant bow he left her, disappearing around the corner. They had distinct Mayfair manner. And somehow, I was embarrassed when, in waiter's garb, he served the coffee.

Every writer has awakened out of a dream with the nucleus of a yarn. Set down, it proves so much tosh in the calm daylight. An exception is Irwin Cobb's "Three Wise Men of the East," an early bravura that was a dream, even to the title, and was written next day without a solitary change.

Thingumbobs: Elevators at the Ritz—sprayed with perfume thrice daily. Katherine Bruce began her career writing a movie column anonymously for an East Liverpool, O. paper. Schiaparelli is sponsoring epaulettes shouldered. Frank McIntyre's brother owns the leading hotel in Ann Arbor. Geraldine Farrar likes to don a mackintosh and walk in the rain. The poet Samuel Hoffenstein's farewell to Hollywood: "Literacy was my undoing." The palaces of Versailles are full of fleas.

In the past week two unsigned letters brought a five and single dollar bill. Each suggested an idea to end the depression. If the custom takes on the force of a fad, I'm certain it will—at least for a certain party.

The late Roy K. Moulton received a letter, with a Boston post mark one day, bearing a hundred dollar bill and this typewritten, unsigned note: "I am psychic. Give this bill to the first person you see after reading this you will never regret it." The first person he saw was the owner of the newspaper who dropped in. "But," added Moulton cryptically, "he didn't get. I was never able to see him."

I suppose every collector has thought of the idea. But it just came to me around 11:15 this morning that Gandhi's pin would make a swell trophy for some one.

Nothing is so annoying as the wondrous vitality of those backslappers who knock a fellow from under his hat. I ran afoul one today and showed my irritation. "Fouting, ch?" he boomed, and bending my head into the crook of his arm, the big stiff gave my thinning hair a royal Dutch rub. All night I'll stay awake in the wide-eyed manner of the goldfish, thinking up ways to murder him.

The Stars Say—

Friday, June 10

A day of peculiar, intriguing and perplexing emotional, mental and physical reactions to planetary vibrations is presaged. But this mysterious or impressionable state may be turned into prolific channels in artistic composition, poetry, music, inspirational literature or spiritual growth, or into altruistic work for the race or to practical occultism. Be discreet.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year of the peculiar unusual or novel, in their workday affairs, as well as in their emotional, mental and spiritual reactions. There may be mysterious yearnings, presentiments, forebodings as well as urges to romance, poetry, music, art and to unravel the unfathomable through spiritualism or occultism. But be discreet and keep free from intrigues, conspiracy and peculiar entanglements or adventures. A child born on this day may be talented in a peculiar or novel way, inspired by its high emotional qualities.

Notable nativity: Sir Edwin Arnold, poet, Orientalist.

Vacation For Nerve Fatigue
"Nerve fatigue" is a term used to describe a run down condition of the nervous system. It is often incorrectly used by the layman to describe a condition of simple nervousness, which in this case may or may not be a symptom of nerve fatigue.

DR. COPELAND

The body performs its daily work by reason of energy derived chiefly from carbohydrates or starches in the diet. This energy material is stored in the muscles and liver in the form of a substance called glycogen, which is released for active work by nerve impulses sent to the muscles and liver. Work can be accomplished only by the "burning up" of glycogen. Labor too long continued will make excessive demands upon the nerve impulses, and nerve exhaustion will result.

Fortunately, ordinary nerve fatigue can be relieved by short periods of rest, but complete nerve exhaustion requires several months or longer for recovery. Indeed, the human body can survive much longer without food than it can without rest or sleep.

Nerve fatigue can develop into a serious condition, the mechanism of the body becoming seriously disturbed. Indigestion, inflammation of the large intestines, constipation, insomnia and constitutional diseases often are caused by prolonged nerve fatigue. The sufferer from this condition also is usually in a state of fear. He worries, is anxious and cannot carry on with his daily work.

Nerve fatigue is often overlooked and neglected. Persistent tired feeling, headache, restlessness and dull and vague pains are attributed to excessive work, but too often nothing is done about them.

These signs should be given immediate attention. A visit should be made to the physician, so that by thorough examination, he can discover the physical status of the body. Special tests are used to determine the presence or absence of nerve fatigue. After this examination the diet can be regulated and if necessary certain treatments given.

Rest is often the only treatment necessary to restore health, and is best prescribed in the form of a vacation. A vacation is a health investment, and it is often more economical to take a vacation than to be forced to prolonged rest because of physical exhaustion.

In good health we live longest and enjoy ourselves most and this desirable state can exist only when we give the body the necessary care and rest. Be sure to get six to eight hours of sleep every day and that your diet is simple but nutritious. It should contain an abundance of fresh vegetables, fruits, milk, cream, butter and eggs. Whenever possible get out of doors and relax in the sun.

If you are worried, do not feel up to par, are easily irritated or apprehensive and tired, I beg of you not to disregard these signs. The best thing is to consult with your physician.

Lisbon Sunday School Chief Is Honored at Class Banquet

LISBON, June 9.—Joseph Bramley, who has served as superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school here for 13 years, and assistant superintendent for 15 years, and who has, in addition, taught a class of boys for 13 years, never missing a Sunday attendance for 20 years, was the honor guest at a banquet given by this class of boys in the Parish house of the church.

Ralph Cannon is the class president and Eddie Phelps secretary-treasurer.

Banquet Follows Contest

The banquet followed a contest among the boys for new members. A history of the class was given by Aurel Muntean. When Mr. Bramley gave his consent to teach a class of boys, there were but seven in the group, and of this original roster but two remain, William Burnip and William Campsey. The class then adopted the slogan, "Watch Us Grow", suggested by William Burnip. The class did increase in membership, due to the activity of the group, until 30 boys were enrolled. Then a larger class room was required. Further effort on the part of the boys brought the class to 41 members, and nine of these boys united with the church last Easter Sunday. Two boys have left the class to become teachers. Two boys, Donald Hill and Freer Goodwin, have maintained perfect attendance records for three years.

Many of the boys in this class have achieved the ability to offer prayer in public. "We only pass along this road once," Mr. Bramley told "his boys," as he calls them. "If I can make good men out of my boys, then I will have achieved much and will have been repaid for all effort I have put forward."

DO YOU INHALE?

Silence
may be golden

... but is that why other cigarette advertising is generally silent on this question?

WHEN the truth hurts—it's only natural to avoid the subject! Inhaling has long been an "untouchable" topic in cigarette advertising. And no wonder! In every tobacco leaf—even the finest, the mildest—nature hides certain impurities which, when not removed, are unkind to delicate membranes!

And since, knowingly or unknowingly, every smoker inhales some part of the smoke from his or her cigarette, Lucky Strike developed that great scientific process which removes certain impurities. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? More than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

TODAY

IT IS BELIEVED by some wets usually well informed that another very conspicuous American, also absolutely dry hitherto, as well as a total abstainer, will in a day or two confirm Mr. Rockefeller's opinion that prohibition has failed.

MOST DISTRESSING to prohibitionists who still believe prohibition a success is news from Jacksonville, Fla., that Mark Wilcox, West Palm Beach lawyer in favor of repealing the eighteenth amendment, will probably go to Congress in place of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, who is dry like her father, the late William J. Bryan.

DEATH COMES TO SPECIALIST

Returning to Asheville, he opened a private practice and limited his work to a study of chest diseases and won recognition as one of the leading specialists in this line of work. In 1913 he became dean of staff of Merimether hospital and training school and held that position until he was succeeded by his son, Dr. Arthur C. Ambler.

Named Chief of Staff

He was also actively interested in St. Joseph's sanitarium and in 1924 was elected president of the hospital staff of physicians. In 1930 he was elected honorary president for life.

For 12 years he was a director of the Asheville board of trade and was president of the Buncombe County Medical society for years. He was a member of the county, state, tri-state, southern and American medical associations and was for several years a director of the Asheville Citizens bank.

His many articles in relation to diagnosis and treatment of pulmonary diseases won him nationwide fame.

In 1922 one of his greatest dreams, the construction and operation of a North Carolina health resort, was realized in the erection of the Ambler Heights sanitarium, an institution providing, under Dr. Ambler's supervision, every care for the convalescent tubercular patient.

Active In Masonry

Among his many other activities he was an active member of various Masonic bodies, being initiated into his Masonic career in Canton in August, 1895. He held every office possible in Asheville orders and was elected to the 33rd degree (honorary). In 1915 and made an honorary member of Oasis Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., in 1921.

He served as potentate of Oasis temple in 1914 and was annually re-elected high priest and prophet for 18 years. He assisted in the organization of the Masonic Temple company and for years was its president.

He was a past president of the Asheville Audubon society, was secretary-treasurer of the Asheville National Parks association, and was unusually active in many civic and social activities of the city.

Dr. Ambler in 1891 was married to Miss Harriet Barbara Vernon of Salem. Four children, Dr. John V. Ambler of Cleveland, Dr. Arthur C. Ambler and Miss Barbara Ambler of Asheville and Mrs. Terrance S. Maunell of Vancouver, B. C., survive.

Following the death of his first wife in 1918, Dr. Ambler was married to Mrs. Daidy D. Chalmers of Asheville in 1926.

PRaise SPIRIT OF SALEM DAYS

Congressman, Ohio Retail Expert Comment On Sales Event

"If Salem Days accomplish similarly the results secured in companion promotional events conducted in many Ohio cities during the last few months, your merchants, townspeople and every consumer in your trading area will be gratified. First, the customers of your fine and enterprising stores will profit materially by reason of the substantial economies to be made available to them by your retailers; your merchants will be heartened by the sight of increased numbers of customers who will assemble to take advantage of the seasonable merchandise offered at attractive prices; and, third, your entire community will have the satisfaction of knowing that it has done a constructive job.

"Salem, its merchants and citizens should look to the event as a really important contribution toward heightening retail activity in your community."

THEATER Attractions

"SINNERS IN THE SUN" with Chester Morris and Carole Lombard as its stars plays today at the State.

Miss Lombard, the beautiful but poor girl who, as a model in a fashionable dress shop, gets vicarious pleasure in wearing the gowns of the rich, does fine work in this picture with some of the most lavish sets, showing mannequins displaying lovely apparel for the feminine buyer, ever seen on the screen.

Morris plays Jimmie Martin, who really loves Carole, and when she leaves him for the rich she believes she deserves, he marries Claire Kinkaid, an heiress, played brilliantly by Adrienne Ames.

COMING ATTRACTIONS show as the State's main attraction Friday and Saturday, "The Tenderfoot" with Joe E. Brown.

In his latest, wide-mouthed Joe portrays a Texas rancher who comes to New York with the last of his money, which he intends to invest profitably so he can lift the mortgage on his ranch. Armed with his money and his six-shooters, Joe becomes involved with a theatrical producer, falls in love, buys a show which is a failure, miraculously and unwittingly turns the show into a howling success, gets mixed up with lawyers and ladies, eventually overcoming all obstacles, lifting the mortgage and winning the girl.

Ginger Rogers plays opposite to the star.

Hits Diversion Of Highway Funds

LISBON, June 9.—Diversion of money obtained from gasoline taxation to uses other than for highway improvement projects was opposed by George Stephenson of Columbus, representative of the Ohio Good Roads Federation, in an address in the office of county commissioner here Wednesday night.

Members of the board of commissioners, Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk, and representatives of the state highway department attended the meeting.

Stephenson said that money from the gasoline tax is intended only for use on highway improvements and that concerted efforts should be made throughout to state to oppose the diversion of the funds to other uses.

Correction

The item in the Simon Bros. advertisement in The News yesterday, which read five pounds of pork chops for 25 cents, should have read three pounds for 25 cents.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Rosent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Grove Pitches, Bats Mackmen To 3-1 Victory Over Indians

Homer by Star Hurler Breaks Up Slab Duel; Yankees Upset Tigers

Robert Moses "Lefty" Grove doesn't get many home runs or, in fact, does he connect for many singles but Wednesday one of his few and far between circuit clouts decided the issue between the Athletics of Philadelphia and Cleveland's Indians in a great battle at League park.

Grove gave the A's their winning run in the eighth, inning with a homer and scored his eleventh victory of the year by a 3-1 score. It was his tenth victory in a row.

The tribe connected for 10 hits off the elongated Philadelphia but was unable to bunt their blows in opportune moments. Mel Harder held the opponents to three hits in seven innings and lost a really tough one.
